David Bell has been an avid Woodworking enthusiast for nearly 40 years. His experience and passion for wood has evolved into a desire to combine his knowledge of wood with other mixed mediums, which make his woodturning unique to the art and craft it has become.

David's passion has been influenced through self taught practice and hands on workshops with other well known people in the woodturning field. He also belongs to a few woodturning guilds in the South Western Ontario region. David has been graciously passing on some of his knowledge to other Woodturners within Ontario and abroad. David's teachings have been showcased as a guest at the 2015 American Association of Woodturners Symposium in Pittsburgh, USA, the Midwest Penturners Gathering in Ohio 2017 and the next 2018 gathering.

David currently teaches his craft through invitations and special request groups, as well as, hosting classes in his workshop and at Lee Valley.

David is currently producing video segments of his craft and preparing for some upcoming woodturning classes for the remainder of 2018. David currently resides in the town of Elora, Ontario.
